British Sign Language (BSL) – A UK First

- There are approximately 120,000 Deaf Adults using BSL in the UK
- There are approximately 20,000 Deaf Children using BSL in the UK
- Not forgetting their families, relatives, Carers and Interpreters
- Many of our deaf community are unable to read English, so signing may be their only means of communication
- BSL was first recognised as an official minority language in 2003
- How many of your travelling passengers use BSL?
- Question; how many of the Deaf Community don't use Rail as they can't hear the announcements or read the CIS?

On-screen translations to assist the Deaf and Hard of Hearing Community

The Pre-Determined library is made up of recorded videos that the station can stream instantly.

Live Streaming Translations for Disruption Notices:

The game changer will be the fact the station can script a message, emailed it to our service team and we get it converted to a BSL Video and back to them within 1 > 2 hours.
